Our Mission

- To provide English language teachers worldwide with the most innovative, creative, and ground-breaking community for professional growth, connection, and recognition.

Schools, not hotels

Events rooted in real educational spaces — the places where teachers live their professional lives.

Stages for everyone

Every teacher has the chance to speak, not only the 'big names'. First-time presenters are celebrated.

Excellence + inclusion

Global thought leaders alongside everyday practitioners. No hierarchy.

Community as curriculum

Shared meals, cultural walks, and human connection are part of the programme, not extras.

EdYouFest
SINCE 2015

 Ecosystem

EdYouFest

is not just an event. It is not just a conference. It is an ecosystem.

A Global Community of Educators

A living, growing network of educators, ideas, projects, and opportunities that extends far beyond the days of a single event.

At the heart of EdYouFest lies a simple but powerful idea: teachers grow stronger when they grow together.

Beyond the Event

Across countries, cultures, and contexts, EdYouFest connects educators who share the same passion for learning, innovation, and professional development.

The EdYouFest experience does not end when the conference closes. Through a series of interconnected initiatives, the ecosystem continues to support teachers throughout the year:

Each element is part of a bigger vision: creating a sustainable and dynamic professional network for educators.

The EdYouFest Ecosystem responds to this need by creating a space where teachers are not alone, where ideas circulate freely, and where professional growth becomes a shared journey.
